

HONORABLE RICHARD A. JONES

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

WILLIAM F. WINGATE,
Plaintiff,
vs.
CYNTHIA WHITLATCH,
Defendant.

NO. 2:15-cv-00822-RAJ
JURY INSTRUCTIONS

Given in open court this 7th day of November, 2016.

The Honorable Richard A. Jones
United States District Judge

INSTRUCTION NO. 1

Members of the Jury: Now that you have heard all of the evidence and the arguments of the attorneys, it is my duty to instruct you on the law that applies to this case.

Each of you has received a copy of these instructions that you may take with you to the jury room to consult during your deliberations.

It is your duty to find the facts from all the evidence in the case. To those facts you will apply the law as I give it to you. You must follow the law as I give it to you whether you agree with it or not. And you must not be influenced by any personal likes or dislikes, opinions, prejudices, or sympathy. That means that you must decide the case solely on the evidence before you. You will recall that you took an oath to do so.

Please do not read into these instructions or anything that I may say or do or have said or done that I have an opinion regarding the evidence or what your verdict should be.

INSTRUCTION NO. 2

The evidence you are to consider in deciding what the facts are consists of:

1. The sworn testimony of any witness;
2. The exhibits that are admitted into evidence; and
3. Any facts to which the lawyers have agreed.

INSTRUCTION NO. 3

1 In reaching your verdict, you may consider only the testimony and exhibits
2 received into evidence. Certain things are not evidence, and you may not consider them
3 in deciding what the facts are. I will list them for you:

4 1. Arguments and statements by lawyers are not evidence. The lawyers are not
5 witnesses. What they have said in their opening statements, closing arguments and at 6 other times is intended to help you interpret the evidence, but it is not evidence. If the 7 facts as you remember them differ from the way the lawyers have stated them, your 8 memory of them controls.

9 2. Questions and objections by lawyers are not evidence. Attorneys have a duty 10 to their clients to object when they believe a question is improper under the rules of 11 evidence. You should not be influenced by the objection or by the court's ruling on it.

12 3. Testimony that is excluded or stricken, or that you have been instructed to 13 disregard, is not evidence and must not be considered. In addition some evidence was 14 received only for a limited purpose; when I have instructed you to consider certain 15 evidence only for a limited purpose, you must do so and you may not consider that 16 evidence for any other purpose.

17 4. Anything you may have seen or heard when the court was not in session is not 18 evidence. You are to decide the case solely on the evidence received at the trial.

INSTRUCTION NO. 4

Evidence may be direct or circumstantial. Direct evidence is direct proof of a fact, such as testimony by a witness about what that witness personally saw or heard or did. Circumstantial evidence is proof of one or more facts from which you could find another fact. You should consider both kinds of evidence. The law makes no distinction between the weight to be given to either direct or circumstantial evidence. It is for you to decide how much weight to give to any evidence.

INSTRUCTION NO. 5

1 In deciding the facts in this case, you may have to decide which testimony to
2 believe and which testimony not to believe. You may believe everything a witness says,
3 or part of it, or none of it.

4 In considering the testimony of any witness, you may take into account:

- 5 (1) the opportunity and ability of the witness to see or hear or know the things 6 testified to;
7 (2) the witness's memory;
8 (3) the witness's manner while testifying;
9 (4) the witness's interest in the outcome of the case, if any;
10 (5) the witness's bias or prejudice, if any;
11 (6) whether other evidence contradicted the witness's testimony;
12 (7) the reasonableness of the witness's testimony in light of all the evidence; and 13 (8) any other factors that bear on believability.

14 Sometimes a witness may say something that is not consistent with something 15 else he or she said. Sometimes different witnesses will give different versions of what 16 happened. People often forget things or make mistakes in what they remember. Also,
17 two people may see the same event but remember it differently. You may consider 18 these differences, but do not decide that testimony is untrue just because it differs from 19 other testimony.

20 However, if you decide that a witness has deliberately testified untruthfully about 21 something important, you may choose not to believe anything that witness said. On the 22 other hand, if you think the witness testified untruthfully about some things but told the 23 truth about others, you may accept the part you think is true and ignore the rest.

24 The weight of the evidence as to a fact does not necessarily depend on the 25 number of witnesses who testify. What is important is how believable the witnesses were, and how much weight you think their testimony deserves.

INSTRUCTION NO. 6

Some witnesses, because of education or experience, are permitted to state opinions and the reasons for those opinions.

Such opinion testimony should be judged just like any other testimony. You may accept it or reject it, and give it as much weight as you think it deserves, considering the witness's education and experience, the reasons given for the opinion, and all the other evidence in the case.

2 A deposition is the sworn testimony of a witness taken before trial. The witness
3 is placed under oath to tell the truth and lawyers for each party may ask questions. The 4 questions and answers are recorded. When a person is unavailable to testify at trial, the 5 deposition of that person may be used at the trial.

6 Insofar as possible, you should consider deposition testimony, presented to you
7 in court in lieu of live testimony, in the same way as if the witness had been present to 8 testify.

9 Do not place any significance on the behavior or tone of voice of any person
10 reading the questions or answers.

INSTRUCTION NO. 8

When a party has the burden of proof on any claim by a preponderance of the evidence, it means you must be persuaded by the evidence that the claim is more probably true than not true.

You should base your decision on all of the evidence, regardless of which party presented it.

INSTRUCTION NO. 9

Some of you have taken notes during the trial. Whether or not you took notes, you should rely on your own memory of what was said. Notes are only to assist your memory. You should not be overly influenced by your notes or those of your fellow jurors.

INSTRUCTION NO. 10

To help you follow the evidence, I will give you a brief summary of the positions of the parties.

William Wingate claims that on July 9, 2014 then Acting Sergeant Cynthia Whitlatch stopped, detained, and arrested him because of his race in violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. He further claims that Ms. Whitlatch's conduct was substantially motivated by race, a violation of Washington law. Mr. Wingate has the burden of proving these claims.

Ms. Whitlatch denies those claims and asserts that she stopped Mr. Wingate only to investigate a possible threat to her or a potential threat to public safety and arrested him because of his actions and his refusal to cooperate with her investigation.

Reasonable suspicion and probable cause are not at issue in this case. The issue for you to decide is whether Ms. Whitlatch's decision to stop or arrest Mr. Wingate was motivated by race.

This summary is not evidence, but is meant to help you understand the parties' claims.

INSTRUCTION NO. 11

Mr. Wingate brings his claim under the federal statute, 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which provides that any person or persons who, under color of law, deprives another of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States shall be liable to the injured party.

2 In order to prevail on his § 1983 claim against the defendant, Cynthia Whitlatch,
3 the plaintiff must prove each of the following elements by a preponderance of the 4 evidence:

5 (1) Ms. Whitlatch acted under color of law; and

6 (2) The acts of Ms. Whitlatch deprived Mr. Wingate of his particular rights under 7 the United States Constitution as explained in later instructions.

8 A person acts “under color of law” when the person acts or purports to act in the 9 performance of official duties under any state, county, or municipal law, ordinance, or 10 regulation. The parties stipulate that Ms. Whitlatch acted under color of law.

11 If you find Mr. Wingate has proved each of these elements, and if you find that 12 the he has proved all the elements he is required to prove under Instruction No. 13, your 13 verdict should be for Mr. Wingate. If, on the other hand, Mr. Wingate has failed to 14 prove any one or more of these elements, your verdict should be for Ms. Whitlatch.

INSTRUCTION NO. 13

In order to prove that Ms. Whitlatch violated Mr. Wingate's Fourteenth Amendment Equal Protection rights, Mr. Wingate must prove by a preponderance of the evidence that Ms. Whitlatch acted with an intent or purpose to discriminate against him, or against a class of which Mr. Wingate is a member, based on his race.

Intentional discrimination means that Ms. Whitlatch acted at least in part because of Mr. Wingate's race.

INSTRUCTION NO. 14

To establish his Washington Law Against Discrimination claim, Mr. Wingate must prove the following by a preponderance of the evidence:

- (1) He is a member of a protected class;
- (2) The City of Seattle sidewalk is a place of public accommodation;
- (3) Ms. Whitlatch discriminated against Mr. Wingate by not treating him in a manner comparable to the treatment she provided to persons outside that class; and
- (4) That Mr. Wingate's protected class status was a substantial factor causing the discrimination.

An African American person is a member of a protected class.

INSTRUCTION NO. 15

1 It is the duty of the Court to instruct you about the measure of damages. By 2 instructing you on damages, the Court does not mean to suggest for which party your 3 verdict should be rendered.

4 If you find for Mr. Wingate, you must determine his damages. Mr. Wingate has
5 the burden of proving his damages by a preponderance of the evidence. Damages
6 means the amount of money that will reasonably and fairly compensate Mr. Wingate for 7 any injury you find was caused by Ms. Whitlatch. You should consider the following:

8 The nature and extent of Mr. Wingate's injuries; and

9 The mental, physical, and/or emotional pain and suffering experienced and which 10 with reasonable probability Mr. Wingate will experience in the future.

11 It is for you to determine what damages, if any, have been proved.

12 Your award must be based upon evidence and not upon speculation, guesswork
13 or conjecture.

INSTRUCTION NO. 16

1 If you find for Mr. Wingate, you may, but are not required to, award punitive
2 damages. The purposes of punitive damages are to punish a defendant and to deter
3 similar acts in the future. Punitive damages may not be awarded to compensate a
4 plaintiff.

5 Mr. Wingate has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that 6 punitive damages should be awarded, and, if so, the amount of any such damages.

7 You may award punitive damages only if you find that Ms. Whitlatch's conduct
8 that harmed Mr. Wingate was malicious, oppressive or in reckless disregard of his 9 rights. Conduct is malicious if it is accompanied by ill will, or spite, or if it is for the 10 purpose of injuring the plaintiff. Conduct is in reckless disregard of the plaintiff's rights 11 if, under the circumstances, it reflects complete indifference to the plaintiff's safety or 12 rights, or if the defendant acts in the face of a perceived risk that its actions will violate 13 the plaintiff's rights under federal law. An act or omission is oppressive if the 14 defendant injures or damages or otherwise violates the rights of the plaintiff with 15 unnecessary harshness or severity, such as by the misuse or abuse of authority or power
16 or by the taking advantage of some weakness or disability or misfortune of the plaintiff.

17 If you find that punitive damages are appropriate, you must use reason in setting
18 the amount. Punitive damages, if any, should be in an amount sufficient to fulfill their 19 purposes but should not reflect bias, prejudice or sympathy toward any party. In 20 considering the amount of any punitive damages, consider the degree of reprehensibility
21 of Ms. Whitlatch's conduct.

22 In addition, you may consider the relationship of any award of punitive damages
23 to any actual harm inflicted on Mr. Wingate.

24 Punitive damages may be awarded even if you award only nominal, and not
25 compensatory damages to Mr. Wingate.

INSTRUCTION NO. 17

The term “proximate cause” means a cause which in a direct sequence unbroken by any superseding cause, produces the injury complained of and without which such injury would not have happened.

There may be more than one proximate cause of an injury.

INSTRUCTION NO. 18

Before you begin your deliberations, elect one member of the jury as your presiding juror. The presiding juror will preside over the deliberations and serve as the spokesperson for the jury in court.

You shall diligently strive to reach agreement with all of the other jurors if you can do so. Your verdict must be unanimous.

Each of you must decide the case for yourself, but you should do so only after you have considered all of the evidence, discussed it fully with the other jurors, and listened to their views.

It is important that you attempt to reach a unanimous verdict but, of course, only if each of you can do so after having made your own conscientious decision. Do not be unwilling to change your opinion if the discussion persuades you that you should. But do not come to a decision simply because other jurors think it is right, or change an honest belief about the weight and effect of the evidence simply to reach a verdict.

2 Because you must base your verdict only on the evidence received in the case
3 and on these instructions, I remind you that you must not be exposed to any other
4 information about the case or to the issues it involves. Except for discussing the case
5 with your fellow jurors during your deliberations:

6 Do not communicate with anyone in any way and do not let anyone
7 else communicate with you in any way about the merits of the case
8 or anything to do with it. This includes discussing the case in person,
9 in writing, by phone or electronic means, via email, via text
10 messaging, or any Internet chat room, blog, website or application,
11 including but not limited to Facebook, YouTube, Twitter, Instagram,
12 LinkedIn, Snapchat, or any other forms of social media. This applies 13 to communicating with your family members, your employer, the 14 media or press, and the people involved in the trial. If you are asked 15 or approached in any way about your jury service or anything about 16 this case, you must respond that you have been ordered not to 17 discuss the matter and to report the contact to the court.

18 Do not read, watch, or listen to any news or media accounts or 19 commentary about the case or anything to do with it[, although I
20 have no information that there will be news reports about this case]; 21 do not do any research, such as consulting dictionaries, searching the 22 Internet, or using other reference materials; and do not make any 23 investigation or in any other way try to learn about the case on your 24 own. Do not visit or view any place discussed in this case, and do 25 not use Internet programs or other devices to search for or view any place discussed during the trial. Also, do not do any research about

1 this case, the law, or the people involved—including the parties, the 2 witnesses or the lawyers—until you have been excused as jurors. If 3 you happen to read or hear anything touching on this case in the 4 media, turn away and report it to me as soon as possible.

5 These rules protect each party's right to have this case decided only on evidence
6 that has been presented here in court. Witnesses here in court take an oath to tell the 7 truth, and the accuracy of their testimony is tested through the trial process. If you do
8 any research or investigation outside the courtroom, or gain any information through 9 improper communications, then your verdict may be influenced by inaccurate,
10 incomplete or misleading information that has not been tested by the trial process. Each
11 of the parties is entitled to a fair trial by an impartial jury, and if you decide the case
12 based on information not presented in court, you will have denied the parties a fair trial.
13 Remember, you have taken an oath to follow the rules, and it is very important that you 14 follow these rules.

15 A juror who violates these restrictions jeopardizes the fairness of these 16 proceedings, and a mistrial could result that would require the entire trial process to start
17 over. If any juror is exposed to any outside information, please notify the court
18 immediately.

INSTRUCTION NO. 20

1 If it becomes necessary during your deliberations to communicate with me, you
2 may send a note through the deputy, signed by your presiding juror or by one or more
3 members of the jury. No member of the jury should ever attempt to communicate with 4 me except by a signed writing; I will communicate with any member of the jury on 5 anything concerning the case only in writing, or here in open court. If you send out a
6 question, I will consult with the parties before answering it, which may take some time.
7 You may continue your deliberations while waiting for the answer to any question.
8 Remember that you are not to tell anyone—including me—how the jury stands, 9 numerically or otherwise, until after you have reached a unanimous verdict or have been 10 discharged. Do not disclose any vote count in any note to the court.

INSTRUCTION NO. 21

A verdict form has been prepared for you. After you have reached unanimous agreement on a verdict, your presiding juror should complete the verdict form according to your deliberations, sign and date it, and advise the deputy that you are ready to return to the courtroom.
